

Marcus is to stage exhibition

ARTIST Marcus Levine will be staging a one-man exhibition at the Finite Showhouse, at Heatherfields, 109 Harrogate Road, Yeadon, on Saturday, March 7.

The show is not open to the public but people can register their interest on the artist's website, levine-art.co.uk, where they will find out how to get an invitation.

Marcus Levine trained as a fine artist and studied alongside Damien Hurst. Despite a full-time career in the family business, he continued creating and painting, building up a collection of work which includes sculptures and pictures created with nails.

Marcus said: "It is quite unique — a new form of art. I have a broad range of interests and my work is quite diverse but always a positive outlook. I am very much an experimenter which means there is always something new to see."

ARTIST: Marcus Levine.

The Finite Showhouse has been created by a company run by Fraser Stride, of Finite Solutions, which creates sound, light and Cinema automation.

Marcus said: "When I met Fraser he was in the process of refurbishing a house in Leeds to show off their abilities. They have been involved in very large projects, including one of the Grand Design houses that appeared on TV.

The show house is now finished and is the largest permanent show house of its kind in the UK. Fraser asked me to become the resident artist and my work is hung throughout the house.

"The show house is also home to an interior designer, bespoke furniture maker, kitchen company and I believe a landscape gardener who specialises in mature
